I saw three witches, that bowed down like barley.
and straddled their brooms 'neath a louring sky.

and mounting a storm-cloud, a loft

on its margin, stood black in the silver as up they did fly.

I saw three witches that mocked the poor sparrows,

they carried in cages of wicker,
a long, till a hawk from his eyrie.
I saw three witches that sailed in a shallop.

swooped down like an arrow.

...smote on the cages...

...and ended their song...

I saw three witches...
all turning their heads with a snickering smile.

till a bank of green osiers concealed their grim faces, though I heard them lamenting for many a mile.
