Oh it's always someone else's fault

Music and words by Gary Bachlund

Copyright © 2009 Gary Bachlund  All international rights reserved.  www.bachlund.org
Oh it's always someone else's fault

Oh what I do when I go wrong is most surely all your fault. It can't be mine; all faults belong to someone else's cracked Gestalt. If you take no blame, it must be them who must then pay my fines. It really is quite the Oh it's always someone else's fault

40

clever-est ploy through which illogic shines, So-

47

ci-ety is guilty, large and small, for all the crimes I do.

54

— It is they must pay, and prostrate fall when e'er I give the cue.

(8)

62

— Oh it's always some-one el-se's fault.
Oh it's always someone else's fault

when I perpetrate some crime. My sense is clear; this sweet assault paints others with my guilt-free grime. It's all your fault, and none is mine. The thought is just sublime.

Oh it's always someone else's fault.... someone else's fault.