Francis William Bourdillon (1852 - 1921)

The Debt Unpayable

Gary Bachlund

\( \text{d} = 60 \text{ with intensity throughout} \)

What have I given, bold sailor on the sea?

In earth or heaven, that you should die for me?

What can I give, O soldier, O soldier,
The Debt Unpayable

leal and brave, * long as I shall live, * to pay the life _

* * loyal, archaic Scottish _ you gave? _

What tithe or part can I re - _ turn to thee, O strick-en_ heart, that thou shouldst break_ for _ me? _

The wind of Death for you _ 71:

...that you should die for me?

...for me?